++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Plenty of clear skies but feeling fresh.

Today:
Any frost and fog and will clear into the morning, as well as any cloud slowly retreating to the east. Otherwise, another fine, dry, and sunny day ahead, although feeling marginally cooler than Friday. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Feeling chilly this evening and tonight under largely clear skies. This also allows for frost and fog to develop widely, particularly in rural locations. Remaining dry. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Sunday:
Another mild and sunny day. Winds pick up during the afternoon and rain follows in the evening. Turning unsettled overnight with showers, many wintry, and a widespread frost. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
A period of unsettled and cold weather, with widespread frosts each night. Snow showers with strong winds and a risks of coastal gales Monday, easing Tuesday. Slightly less cold Wednesday.
